

On the wild side at Lukestone Care Home

This week staff from Wild Science visited us at Lukestone Care Home, with a selection of fascinating animals.

Established in 2014, Wild Science provides high quality Animal Education and Therapy Workshops, featuring a range of small mammals, reptiles, amphibians and invertebrates.

Our residents were captivated by the creatures on show and many were keen to feel and hold them. Particularly popular was their friendly Guinea pig and corn snake.

Many thanks to the friendly Wild Science staff who spent time with us, sharing their animal knowledge.
